SITGES is where real Catalunya meets the coast: this delightful village resort is unlike the "Benidorm style" resorts of the neighbouring Costa Brava & Dourada: it is akin to a Cornish village with guaranteed sun and embellished with Catalan style. Sandy beaches, narrow winding streets with great shops including smart boutiques and food shops with local delicacies. A choice of restaurants, bars and cafes that a major city would be proud of plus several interesting museums and art galleries in the historic village centre. Visitors are predominantly Catalan / Spanish – many wealthy Barcelona citizens have a second home in Sitges – although there are some visitors from the UK and from around Europe and the world. This relaxing and stylish haven is just 35 mins from the bustle of Barcelona by rail or road.
